Understanding The Importance of Our Green Part

The naturally thinking nature of the green part of our personality provides the strengths of objectivity, logic, and rational decision-making. Our green side helps us to be successful in life because it helps us to think things through so that we can better reach our goals. When we say “use your head“, we are coming from the green side of our character. It is the green part of us that promotes problem-solving as the way to end conflicts. People with a high Green often say “think it through”, or “let's look at the big picture“, to help pull us out of situations when we feel emotionally overwhelmed. If Green is a big part of you, you are a natural inventor who enjoys coming up with new, improved ways of doing things. You are full of ideas to brainstorm. Your green side helps others to see a greater vision for everyone's success.
